GLENDALE VOTES ON MONDAY

A Full Set of City Officials to be Elected—The Situation Up to Date

CITIZENS' TICKET.

For City Trustees.

Wilmot Parcher, 4 year term.
T. W. Watson, 4 year term.
W. A. Anderson, 4 year term.
H. P. Coker, 2 year term.
John A. Cole, 2 year term.

INDEPENDENT.

Simeon Grant, 2 year term.
City Clerk, G. B. Woodberry.
City Treasurer and Tax Collector,
T. W. Doyle.
Marshal, H. N. Miller.

We believe that the best interests of the city will be advanced by electing for trustees five men of the six named above. The name of Mr. Coker appears also on the Glendale City ticket for the four year term. In standing for this term, Mr. Coker is placed in the position of running against one of his associates on the Citizens' ticket, on which he first accepted a position. If he is elected for the four year term, he will win by defeating either Parcher, Watson or Anderson, who were selected for the position by the same citizens who in the Odd Fellows Hall meeting nominated him for a two year term. While we do not think that Mr. Coker realized the position into which he was thrust by his injudicious friends who put his name on the Glendale City ticket for a term different from that for which he was first named, we fail to see any reason why he should receive for the four year term the support of those citizens who took part in the Odd Fellows Hall meeting. Further than that, if the voters who attended that meeting believing that under the circumstances a vote for Mr. Coker for the two year term will be thrown away, and wish to substitute another name, it should, in our opinion, be that of Mr. Grant, for the one sufficient reason that he represents the eastern portion of the city. We do not oppose the election of Messrs. Brigham and Ackley on any personal grounds, but solely because the election of either or both will result in a board of trustees taken almost or entirely from one corner of the city, leaving two-thirds of the voters of Glendale with possibly no representative from their own section.

Just a word about the platform of the Glendale City ticket. Like all other platforms made to catch votes, it sounds well. Prohibition is not on trial, and we have no saloon element. Every citizen can well support the idea of filling city offices with city men—other conditions being equal. Better fire protection of course—and a building for the fire apparatus! An economical administration, certainly. "Lower taxes and more schools." This sounds particularly pleasing, but what is there to it that is pertinent? Nothing, absolutely nothing. If the city government had anything to do with the schools, which it has not, and would furnish more of them, it is a self-evident fact that it could only do so by an increase of taxes!

The cost of our city government for the present year is 25 cents on the hundred dollars of assessed valuation, fire bonds included! Is this exorbitant? The levy fixed for the present year is 85 cents, from which there is to be deducted the 60 cents exemption on road tax which is not paid within the corporate limits, but is payable to the county by outside property, leaving 25 cents as stated. That the outgoing board of trustees have kept municipal taxes down to this very reasonable limit and have at the same time accomplished so much for Glendale is greatly to their credit.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY MEETING AND THE SITUATION.

In pursuance of a call by the committee there was a mass meeting of citizens held at the city hall last Saturday evening to hear the report of the committee and give them further instructions. Mr. J. C. Sherer acted as chairman and immediately called for the committee's report. This was given in accordance with the facts presented in the correspondence which we published last week. Mr. Hawes not having yet made good his promise to contribute $11,000 of the bonus required by the railroad company, although still reported as willing to do so under certain conditions, which the railroad people refuse to comply with, it was unanimously resolved that after Saturday, April 11th, all contributors to the bonus fund who have paid in their money, are permitted to have the same returned, and that any deeds for right of way, etc., which have been delivered shall be returned to the makers.

There is still some reason to hope that before this time expires Mr. Hawes and the railroad people may come together and the road be built. Although the time limit fixed by the railroad people has long ago expired, they are still willing to build the road if the original conditions are complied with. The people of Glendale have done everything that Mr. Huntington asked them to do. It looks at the present time as if Mr. Hawes by attaching new conditions to his subscription from time to time, has made himself responsible for the delay so far, and for the failure to get the road if we do not still get it. Further comment is reserved, however, until our next issue. The meeting adjourned to meet again this (Saturday) evening at the same place, when the result of the week's waiting will be known.

PROPOSED NEW SCHOOLHOUSE AT WEST GLENDALE.

The trustees of the West Glendale School district met last Saturday evening and decided to issue a call for a bond election for the purpose of raising $16,000 to secure four additional lots and to erect a new school building thereon, to cost about $15,000. The new structure proposed is to contain eight rooms. The trustees are forced to this action by the constantly increasing demand for school facilities, largely on account of the phenomenal growth of the Vineyard tract, in which on an average about three houses per week have been built since Jan. 1st. The school now contains ninety pupils with only two teachers and the demand for a new building is imperative. Experience has demonstrated several times in this vicinity that it is the best economy and the truest wisdom to build schoolhouses very much larger than are required for present use, and we are glad that our West Glendale neighbors propose to do this.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.

All present but Mr. Campbell. The following demands were referred to the finance committee:

C. D. Thom, gravel	$.75
J. N. Sanborn, hauling	2.50
S. Grant, labor on street	2.25
A. St. Clair, labor on street	4.00
Glendale Light & Power Co.	51.50
R. L. Brown, precinct index	9.12
Neuner Company, Election Supplies	11.00
Glendale Hardware Co., bell etc.	106.30
C. Ganahl Lumber Co., lumber	3.43
G. B. Woodberry, sundries	8.69
Riggs & Sherer, publishing	14.40
Eves & Wilkinson, fire hydrants	90.00

Demands 490A, 491B, 492C, 493, 494, 495, 496 and 512, previously reported favorably by same committee, were ordered paid. A petition from Mrs. M. L. Hackman asking that a special election be called to decide the question of Changing the northerly line of the city boundary, to take from the Incorporated limits a part of lot 85 of Watts subdivision, was referred to the city attorney.

President Parcher was named as a committee to investigate the sanitary conditions of the water supply as provided at last meeting. The city engineer made the following report on bids for the improvement of First street:

George B. Mock, $2.74 per lineal foot.
E. A. McCombs, $2.83.
Tamped Oil Roads Co., $2.84.
Lapp Gifford Co., $3.28.

Report adopted and approved. Trustee Anderson offered resolution of award of contract for improvement of First street, which was adopted. An estimate of the cost of improving Adams street made by the city engineer was received and adopted.

Trustee Watson offered a resolution adopting a map showing improvements of Adams street, which was accepted and adopted. A resolution of intention to improve a portion of Adams street was adopted. An estimate of the city engineer, giving cost of improving a portion of Glendale avenue was accepted and placed on file. Trustee Randolph offered a resolution adopting a map showing improvements on Glendale avenue, which was accepted. He also offered a resolution adopting special specifications for oiling Glendale avenue from an easterly prolongation across Glendale avenue of the southerly line of Maple street to the northerly line of Ninth street, which was adopted.

A resolution of intention to improve this portion of Glendale avenue was then approved.

A resolution was adopted vacating an alley north of Fourth street and one hundred and forty feet west of Verdugo road.

The building inspector was instructed to procure a drip bowl for the city hall, metal shelving for the vault and to have an electric light placed in vault.

FIRE BELL AND TOWER.

The city trustees are again "squandering" the public money. This time it is a fire bell, weighing eight hundred pounds, and a tower thirty feet high upon which it is to swing. The structure is being erected on the rear end of the city lot on Glendale avenue. The base of the structure will rest on a foundation of concrete fourteen feet square, in the form of a Maltese Cross, the tower itself being about six feet square.

THE LOS ANGELES NEWS ON OUR MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN.

One has to go from home sometimes to get home news, and the Los Angeles evening paper alluded to above appears to have grape vine connections here that enable it to give our citizens a good deal of information, which generally lacks the merit of being true.

A recent issue contained the statement that the city trustees bought a lot from street superintendent "St. Clair" for $1750, while an adjoining lot could have been obtained for $1000. There are several inaccuracies in this statement. In the first place, the price paid was $1550. In the second place the adjoining lot was never offered to them at any price, although the trustees twice advertised for prices on lots. In the third place if any lot in that block has been purchased at any price during the past two years for less than $1500 the fact has been studiously concealed from the investing public. The trustees were offered a lot on the opposite side of the street for $75 less, but the lot secured is specially adapted for the purpose desired, fronting on the main street of the town and backing up on two others where they come together at a point. It is an ideal location and can probably not be duplicated in Glendale at any price on account of this access to streets at both ends. It may be mentioned in passing that only $800 of the price to be paid for this lot is taken from the fire bond fund, the remainder to come from the general fund.

As evidence of the insincerity of this reason for opposing the re-election of Messrs. Anderson and Watson, assuming it to be true (which it is not), why do the backers of the "Glendale City ticket," put the name of Mr. Parcher on their ticket, when he was certainly as responsible for that action as the other members of the board?

The allegations in regard to the city engineers and the city attorney, represent the opinions, we presume, of a minority of our citizens; but such opinions cannot be substantiated by any preponderance of evidence! Personally we have no other interest in these gentlemen than have any other tax payers in our city, but the criticisms they have been subject to are so manifestly unfair, that we protest against their being accepted as being anything weightier than mere opinions.

We believe the work of Messrs. Postle and Waddingham has been well done; and criticism of their work which does not take into account the general plan for the whole city, which all sections must conform to, is of little value. As for the fault found with Mr. Baker, the city attorney, the quality of it is illustrated by the argument (?) advanced by one of his opponents, as follows: "Why how can you tell whether he is a good lawyer or not? The city has never had a lawsuit by which he could show his ability." The fact that the city has passed the two most trying years of its existence without getting into litigation, is the best evidence of Mr. Baker's ability, which can possibly be offered. Had the board of trustees depended for legal advice upon an attorney less able and conscientious, the probability is that the municipality would have had trouble on hand which would not only have demanded the full services of its regular attorney, but special counsel besides!

Vote for Watson and the rest of them before you go home, and live happy ever after.

GLENDALE, CAL., APRIL 11, 1908

The duty of the hour; that is of the day after tomorrow, to vote!

Up to the hour we go to press, the municipal campaign is being conducted along lines quite in keeping with our "quiet town."

Whittier being already "dry," is in the throes of a mighty struggle brought about by the attempt to make it "drier."

Are we not getting a little surfeited with pictures of "Bob" Evans and samples of his picturesque profanity? Without any desire to detract from the just fame of Admiral "Bob" (alho we do not recall just how or when he achieved it), we begin to pine for a change of scenery on the front pages of our "leading journals."

Edward Cramer, a teller in the Bank of Los Angeles, has disappeared with a considerable amount of the bank's funds. He was known to be a patron of the race track.

An institution which entrusts its funds to a man known to be a frequenter of gambling resorts of any kind, deserves little sympathy when the funds disappear.

The lamented Fleischman, a protege of I. W. Hellman, set the pace which has been followed by several of his kind since, and in all instances their habits were known to a wide circle of acquaintances, and yet they maintained their positions, being "satisfactory" to their complaisant employers.

Some day when the people become a little more particular about some things they will withhold their patronage from institutions which give employment to men who are known to be gamblers and worse.

A number of our contemporaries are having considerable to say about the "subsidized press" that fails to anatomize the appellate and supreme courts for their decisions in the Schmitz case, which reflect upon the graft prosecution in San Francisco. This paper has not received its share of the subsidy, but we are impelled to say that we have little faith in any prosecuting attorney who breaks faith even with a self-confessed criminal.

Aside from any other circumstances in the case, it is unreasonable to suppose that Ruef would ever have plead guilty, had he not been promised at least some measure of immunity.

The eagerness of Mr. Heney to convict the "higher ups," has doubtless tempted him to disregard the rights of the "lower downs."

At the same time it should be taken into consideration that Ruef and Schmitz are a long ways from escaping punishment for their career of crime. There are still a sufficient number of charges against them to insure their conviction, if the prosecution has at its command the evidence which it claims to possess.

Our Election

Forty-eight hours after this semi-religious and indispensable journal is focused in the public eye, we shall be in the midst of a municipal election. The thirteenth being an unlucky day, we are inspired to prophesy that somebody is going to be left out in the cold to languish in the obscurity of private life. But, and a dread thought bids us pause, will these be the unlucky ones?

"In that bright light that beats upon a throne" (poetical euphemism for city hall) all is not gold and glory. Indeed, the atmosphere in that rare height is sometimes shattered by depressing chunks of gloom which fall from dizzy heights and sliding down the rear neck of the victim of circumstances and votes, cause sensations of discomfort that only the thermometer can measure and which cannot be expressed in words, altho the victim sometimes makes the effort.

We extend in advance congratulation and condolence, but not for a moment are we rash enough to attempt to distribute judiciously these compliments which we so generously bestow. They are free to all, gentlemen, step up and help yourselves.

April 13th

This is the date for the election of local officers in cities of the sixth class. We have in Glendale about four hundred voters and the probability is that but few of them will fail to perform their duty as citizens, for we are glad to note that a very general interest is being taken in the contest.

It is a contest of great importance. The board of trustees to be elected will have to decide many important matters during their term of office. Three of them are to be elected for four years, and during that period Glendale will be growing constantly in population and importance. The issues which now seem to be of prime importance will have to be met and acted upon by the trustees whom we shall elect at the polls on Monday. These issues are necessarily more local in their character at present than they will be when we have grown to be a city of more importance; then they will be to some extent outgrown; at present they cannot be ignored.

This emphasizes the necessity for selecting a board that will be composed of members representing the different portions of our city. The majority of the population in the corporate limits reside east of Glendale avenue, and yet only one of the candidates named on both of the tickets resides east of that line. Two of them, it is true, reside on the avenue, but near together in the southwest corner, three blocks distant from the westerly line and a mile from the eastern boundary. This situation gives strength to the position of Mr. Grant, the independent candidate, who resides near the easterly city limits. Voters who believe that this section of the city should have a representative on the board will in most instances put a cross opposite Mr. Grant's name. He would make a reliable and efficient member of the board. We know him to be a man of sterling character and understand that he has filled a similar position elsewhere.

The sweeping charge made against the outgoing board of trustees that they have been "tried and found wanting" is a mere generality used for campaign purposes and one that should carry no weight unless accompanied by specifications. Many of the questions that they have been called upon to decide were such as may naturally have led to differences of opinion, but we cannot imagine a board of five men who would be able to so act as to escape criticism from some quarter. With the exception of their action in regard to the pool room and again on the prohibition ordinance, the members of the board have been unanimous on all public questions. Had there been a minority of one member even to oppose the action of his fellow members, this would have given color to the supposition that there was at least room to doubt the wisdom of their action. But there was no such minority; the harmonious action of the five members on all important questions, except as noted above, is nearly conclusive evidence in itself that their action was right in view of all the circumstances presented to them. This charge falls of its own weight. Indeed, we believe that none of our sister cities of the sixth class have passed the first two years of their existence as smoothly and with fewer mistakes than have been made here. Some of them have had scandals in connection with their local government—none have touched Glendale.

Now the moral of this is, vote for the three members of the board who are up for re-election: ANDERSON, PARCHER, WATSON.

REVIVAL OF INDUSTRY.

As the recent financial scare was never anything more than a made-to-order panic, unjustified by any real cause, its duration was bound to be short-lived and the signs of returning activity in business are apparent on every side. The railroads and some other large corporations have helped the trouble along by stopping development work and by the discharge of a large number of employes, but they cannot keep back for any lengthy period the work which the demand upon their resources compels them to perform. Their rolling stock will wear out and make it necessary to have repairs made and new work done; work on the tracks and rights of way cannot long be deferred and in innumerable ways necessity compels the employment of labor. The inspector of building for one of the large railroads companies told us a month ago that at the time the order for retrenchment was issued, there were more plans for new work in his office than had ever before accumulated and that to postpone such work for any considerable time would prove to be an impossibility, however desirous Wall street might be for such a consummation. He expressed also the opinion that when work was resumed it would go on with a rush that would create a period of unparalleled activity.

There are indications that this period is beginning. It is reported that the railroads throughout the country have suffered severely from the winter's storms and are putting large forces of men at work in repairing damages and preparing for the great traffic which is assured by the excellent crop prospects. Meanwhile the consumption of all manufactured articles continues and factories are reopening and preparing to supply the demand for their output. The last two or three weeks in Southern California have witnessed a revival of many lines of industry, particularly in building operations. The decrease in the price of lumber has had the natural effect of increasing the demand for building material and labor.

In Glendale and other towns contiguous, to Los Angeles, a large increase in home building is noted and many projects are being figured on. Altogether the outlook is excellent for lively times in the near future.

Annual stockholders meetings of water companies do not seem to be popular affairs. At the meeting of the Verdugo Canyon Company Tuesday last, only eight persons were present representing 221 votes out of seventy-five hundred. Of course there being no quorum, no business was transacted.

Mess. H. M. Overton and P. M. Kranz spent Monday last looking over the country around Sunland and Monte Vista. They were surprised and pleased to discover such a large acreage of land suitable for alfalfa raising in the vicinity of the latter place and were much pleased with the aspect of that section generally.

Miss Anna Rehart has spent the past vacation week up north, visiting her father on the San Martine ranch. During the early day of this week Mrs. M. Rehart, with Mrs. John Addison as her guest, made a trip through the northern part of Los Angeles county and into Ventura. They stopped at Piru and other places. A house-guest at present of Mrs. Rehart is Mrs. P. Silvers of Los Angeles.

Sunday being Palm Sunday, the palm branches will be blessed and distributed before the 9 o'clock mass at the G. A. R. hall in Tropic, and also before the 11 o'clock mass in the I. O. F. Hall in Burbank. This service commemorates the triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem.

Red geraniums and greenery were used in artistic display and light refreshments were served. About twenty-six participated.

The annual convention of the Tropic District Sunday School was held on Tuesday at the M. E. church of Glendale. The attendance at the three sessions was very good, and included delegates from all the churches of the valley with but two exceptions. An excellent program was given and help of a practical kind given to the workers. The following were elected officers for the coming year for this district: President, Mr. Thomas Watson; vice president, R. N. Lamberth; secretary and treasurer, S. G. Biddle.

The "Why It Happened Society" will meet immediately in a prolonged session directly after votes are counted.

Mrs. M. O. Ryan was on Friday evening (April 10) hostess for about thirty of her friends in her home on Fifth street. The pretty bungalow was most attractive in an artistic arrangement of candle-light spring boscums. Music and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when delicious refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Evelyn Ryan, Miss Berenice Williams and Miss Winnifred Sadler of Santa Monica. The pretty affair was given to honor Mrs. Albert Tonk, who for several weeks has been the house guest of her sister, Miss Ida M. Walte of Third street. On Tuesday Mrs. Tonk and her son Richard depart for their home in Evanston, Ill., and the hostess provided this occasion for the charming honor guest to once more meet some of the many friends she has made during her visit here. Mrs. Tonk has been complimentary guest on a number of pretty occasions and it is the sincere wish of those who have met her that she will again make an extended visit to Glendale, where sunshine and welcomes await her.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The District Sunday School convention, comprising the schools of Glendale, Tropic, Ivanhoe, and Burbank was held all day and with an evening service Tuesday in the Methodist church. Hugh Gibson, now a recognized authority on Sabbath school work, was the principle speaker. Others were Dr. S. Lawrence Ward, who presided over the meetings, Rev. Henry of Tropic, Mr. Avery, and Miss Mene Brockway, who talked very effectively of work in the primary department. Miss Brower, a sweet singer from Los Angeles, furnished several solos. The attendance was good, the whole district being well represented. Mr. Thomas Watson was elected District Superintendent. Mrs. J. C. Lennox will represent the Home edpartment work.

HIGH SCHOOL.

An election has been called for Saturday next, the 18th, to vote upon the question of changing the site of the High School. This election will be held from 2 to 6 p. m. in every Grammar school district, of which there are six, now composing the Glendale High School district. This is preliminary to the bond issue election which takes place April 28th. At both elections a two-thirds vote is necessary to carry. The first election is not required to be advertised except by the posting of three notices in every district. As to the bond election all details are given in the advertisement which appears elsewhere in this issue. It will be noted that the call for the bond election is for a $60,000 issue, not $75,000 as was at first suggested. The first bond will be payable in three years, so that for the first two years the interest alone will be payable. It is reasonable to suppose that the increase in valuation of property in the district during that time will be so great that the burden of tax will be by no means oppressive. Burbank's withdrawal will be scarcely felt as the assessed valuation of the property of the district since that withdrawal occurred is $3,361,000. It will doubtless be over four millions by the time the first bond becomes due. The present location is a valuable asset and can be sold for probably $12,000 or $15,000, but aside from there being insufficient grounds, it is open to the objection that it is situated too close to the car line, the passing cars interfering by their noise with recitations.

The Junior class is planning for an entertainment to be given by the Delano Mandolin and Guitar Club, Friday, May 2d.

Mr. Scott, of the Heath company, visited the school on Thursday. Mr. Webb called also in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles. His object is to get the institution he represents into closer touch with the schools.

The track event of March 28th should have been referred to last week as something of unusual interest to those interested in school athletics.

The Los Angeles Times says: "The track squad from Glendale High School had little difficulty in annexing the winner's banner in the first annual meet of the Suburban Athletic League, which was held yesterday afternoon on the Occidental campus. Their bright particular star was Goodsell, who took 20 of their total of 23 points.

Bonita High School came second, with 22, and Monrovia third, with 20. "The great number of entries, 110 in all, necessitated the running of preliminary heats in the dashes. After this necessary elimination had been accomplished the final of the 50-yard dash was won by Stine of Glendale, who led the field to the tape, with Brower of Hollywood a foot behind, and Campbell of Monrovia an equally close third.

"In the mile, Yankee of Compton led for the first three laps, but was unable to hold the gauntlet through the fourth, losing to Davies of Monrovia, and Walton of Glendale, who finished in the order named.

"In the field events, Goodsell sprang the surprise of the afternoon by jumping 20 ft. 8 1/2 in., taking his fourth first place medal. Cogswell of El Monte, who is credited with having done twenty-one feet and better, was obliged to drop out after the first round on account of a sprained ankle."

In the half-mile relay race, Glendale came out third.

The results in which Glendale came out in the top ranks, are as follows:

Fifty yard dash, won by Stine.
Mile run, Walton of Glendale second.
440-yard dash, won by Glendale.
220-yard dash, Stine of Glendale third.
Hammer throw, Emery of Glendale second.
Pole vault, Walton of Glendale, third.
Half-mile relay, Stine of Glendale, third.

CORRECTION.

In our reference to the death of Miss Higgins last week, the statement made that she was the step-daughter of Mrs. Binns was an error. Mrs. Binns is the mother of the young woman, and is seriously ill at her residence in Lomita Park.

PROHIBITION—IS IT WISE?

To the Editor of the Glendale News:

Dear Sir: I have just read in your issue of March 14th, Mr. Edgar Leavitt's letter on "Our Prohibition Ordinance," and rejoice to note that while he appears to be an extremist in policy he presents his arguments with a moderation and courtesy not always noticeable in prohibitionist advocates. While you, Mr. Editor, express my own views and position tersely enough in your comment appended to Mr. Leavitt's letter, perhaps you might care to give space to a few remarks I would like to make on the subject.

While I admit that I have not studied the question in the earnest way that Mr. Leavitt probably has done, my natural instincts are opposed to sweeping restrictive and arbitrary legislation of this nature wherever there is doubt as to its real (as opposed to its apparent or temporary) advantage and benefit to the community. I maintain there is grave doubt, in the first place, of the efficacy and practicability of prohibition applying to a limited area, by which I mean any city, county, State or even a single country. "Mr. Leavitt points to Long Beach as an example of a sound prohibition city. If this swallow proves his summer, I fear I could name five or ten to his one that would prove the reverse.

However, the real defect in the prohibition logic seems to me to lie in its major premise, which, so far as I can glean, runs somewhat like this: "All liquor is bad for everybody." If this assertion were unquestionable, prohibition would be unassailable by reasoning beings. Now Mr. Leavitt must be aware that "liquor" is an exceedingly wide term, covering alcoholic drinks of mildness, strength, purity and sophistication, from "invalid stout" to fustil-oil whiskey. It is unthinkable that a man of Mr. Leavitt's caliber can place all these widely differing concoctions in one category as all equally detestable and hurtful. The separation, then, of the legitimate from the illegitimate "liquors" being assumed, I would ask if Mr. Leavitt is not also well aware that physicians of eminence, physiologists, humanitarians and others of the purest motives and largest intellects in every civilized country, in considerable numbers, are to be found who approve and recommend the reasonable use of various fermented drinks both in health and sickness. In supporting a drastic liquor-exclusion law, one is taking no small responsibility in opposing this large consensus of thoroughly respectable and more or less expert and scientific opinion.

Again, I will ask Mr. Leavitt if he is not aware that there are countries in Europe (with climate by the way similar to that of Southern California) where pure light wines from the native grapes form the national beverage, and where the evils that he and his fellow prohibitionists attribute to "drink" are in no degree apparent? I lived for a year in the wine district of South France, also for some time in the north of Spain and need hardly say that although red and white wines are in common use, the straightest retailer would be unable to accuse these inhabitants of penury, idleness, vice, ignorance or any of the supposed concomitants of wine-drinking. In Germany, where light, and scientifically compounded beers form the usual drink of the people, I believe it is equally difficult to find the "dire effects of the drink habit" amongst that very industrious, healthy and cheerful population.

These facts are almost too obvious to require mention. They lead irresistibly to the conclusion that the trouble is not exactly where the prohibitionists place it. Let them concentrate their strength against the abominable adulterations and poisonous, thirst-breeding compounds put on the market by unscrupulous manufacturers and distillers so-called (for there are rascals in all trades) and endeavor to have the law correct THIS "drink evil," as the pure food advocates have been able to in another but similar direction. Every well-meaning citizen would help to abolish the making and selling of these vile drinks, for there is no one who would openly support such a traffic. With this end in view Mr. Leavitt could rally everybody who had a conscience and a heart in its right place. With a blind, unreasoning, bull-like policy such as Prohibition seems to me to be, there will always be a large opposition to contend with from conscientious citizens who believe that acts of congress can not alter human nature's natural rate of growth and progress and that the millennium will not be hastened one day by such means.

But assuming that all commerce in deleterious liquors has been stopped and that light wines and pure laboratory-made beers are the only alcoholic drinks in common use, there still remains the fact that excess will be hurtful, just as excess in eating, in athletics, in novel-reading, in bridge-playing, etc., is hurtful. If this fact justifies the law's interference with a pure drink trade and the contingent vine-growing industry, it equally justifies its interference with card-playing, athletics, ad infinitum and ad nauseam. I trust this country will not see the days of grandmotherly legislation recur in which we may all have to go to bed at 8 p. m., but the prohibition movement seems to me the thin end of the wedge. It is certainly a reactionary tendency that would inflame legislation in which it is assumed that every citizen is a weakling with inebriate inclinations, simply because there are some of these abnormal characters running loose among us. Let the law by all means be appealed to to segregate such individuals for appropriate treatment or confinement, just as is now done with individuals showing other pathological conditions.

Another channel in which the prohibitionist energy could be wisely directed would be in influencing the education authorities to include a simple course of physiology adapted to public school use in which the folly and degradation of excess, especially intoxication, would be pointed out. It seems hard to think that our bright American children should need such lessons, but it is less humiliating to take such precautions in their youth than to treat them, when adult, as if they were children.

If Mr. Leavitt thinks he can eliminate temptation by law he will certainly need to keep the law-makers busy for a thousand years. If he goes and picks out one weed in his garden he knows that another will soon take the vacant place. How can our children become men and women of worth and mettle, proved and tried, if they go out into a temptationless world, even were that possible to secure? Is it not the better part of wisdom to prepare and equip the child for what he or she will assuredly have to meet sometime than to pretend to clear the obstacles from the path of life beforehand? The parent, the school and the church are three potent influences; if they are of no avail, does Mr. Leavitt think the law will be? The former can appeal to and evoke in the young mind mental, moral, social, affectionate and religious qualities or instincts that may be made part of the habit and practice of its life and so insure good citizenship. What can the law do?

Let us not cultivate this habit of running to the law-makers for relief in such relatively domestic concerns or we will lose our independence, our individuality, our very souls in a bondage that one had hoped humanity had shaken off forever.

Most people find the ten commandments quite enough of prohibition to endeavor to live up to. If our modern Moses insists on adding to them without stint it is a question whether life will be worth living for those who can best relish it. It was not Christ's way. He cut down the laws to just two, and if we can teach our children their full significance or will even honestly try to do so, we will not have to place ourselves back in leading strings such as befit the infancy of the human race.

Yours truly,

WM. MITCHELL.

THE CHURCH IN POLITICS.

In Monrovia, the Presbyterian and Methodist churches have taken a hand in the political game which is to be played there on April 13th, and the Baptists promise to follow. It is needless to say that considerable feeling is being engendered by this action. We thoroughly sympathize with the Monrovia News in its strong but temperately expressed opposition to this action of the churches. They have settled the liquor question and the religious organizations are apparently without any reasonable excuse for taking part as organizations in the municipal contest for trustees. Every citizen, whether a member of a church or otherwise, should take an active interest in political affairs; but if the churches persist in endeavoring to play politics, their usefulness as a spiritual element of value to the community will decrease in due proportion to their political success.

Editor News: I want to speak a word for the Board of Trustees of Glendale whose term of office expires in a few days.

For two years under all kinds of discouragements our board have worked for Glendale. I want to emphasize that word Glendale, for they have worked for the city as a whole. They have given their time unpaid ungrudgingly and no one knows how much of it. Citizens dissatisfied with street work have called on them and they have always answered; have spent hours and days in hearing and settling complaints. Three times the whole board met and looked over the Childs avenue question. Lomita avenue work called them; they came and heard the people patiently, and the future will show even the disgruntled ones that they were treated fairly. Any citizen at any time has been at liberty to call them and has always had courteous hearing and attention. They have spent their time and money going to other cities to learn of best methods and appliances. Today Glendale is taking rank as one of the most progressive cities of its class in all Southern California. We owe it to our Board of Trustees. They have been at the head and initiating and pushing the growth. In spite of bucking and efforts to disincorporate and protests on work. They have lead us on and upwards to a recognized place among cities. Their compensation: flings, innuendoes, curses, and a little praise. On Tuesday, April 13th, let us show our appreciation of their work by a strong vote for the three who stand for another term. Show by a big vote that we stand for the improvement of Glendale and endorse the work they have done during the last two years.

MEETING TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF PROVIDING ADDITIONAL GRAMMAR SCHOOL QUARTERS.

The trustees have issued a call for a public meeting to be held at the city hall Friday evening, April 17, at 7:30 o'clock, to consider the question of securing new site or sites, erecting new building or buildings and the amount of the necessary bond issue for the same. The Grammar school on Fourth street cannot be made to afford necessary accommodations for all the children of this large school territory after this year and additional quarters must be provided. It has been suggested that a site be secured between Glendale avenue and Brand boulevard somewhere south of Fourth street so as to particularly accommodate the large number of pupils who reside in the neighborhood of Lomita Park. Residents in the neighborhood of Casa Verdugo naturally prefer that if a new schoolhouse is built it be located further north than this. It will be for this meeting to instruct the trustees as to their wishes and preferences.

FLOWER SHOW FOR GLENDALE.

The Civics Committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club are making plans for a Flower Show in Glendale, to take place about June first. Plans have not been completed, but will be announced soon. It is hoped that the school children particularly may be interested in the affair and there will be special features that will appeal particularly to them. It is hoped that everybody in Glendale, Tropico and nearby will be prepared to help the affair along in every way possible. In the two months time that will elapse before the event comes off, wonders can be accomplished in the way of preparing exhibits. Seeds of annuals can be sowed now and brought to bloom by that time and plants and shrubs that have been in a measure neglected, can now be rejuvenated and forced to produce flowers and blossoms of beauty for this occasion which should be made interesting, instructive and in many ways profitable.

Don't fail to call on Petersen & Co. today (Saturday) at their store next door to the city hall. There will be a demonstration of Bishop's Cup Chocolate and the ladies will be presented with souvenirs.

A BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENT.

One of the happy events of the week was the reunion dinner given on Monday to honor the birthday of Mrs. E. T. Byram, in her home on Glendale avenue. Spring blossoms were attractively arranged in beautifying the rooms, and the handsome table where a dinner of several courses was served. Members of the family assisted Miss Ruth in thus pleasantly honoring the day for her mother, who received gifts and congratulations, added to the blessings of the day.

A "BOOK SOCIAL."

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will give a "Book Social" on Wednesday, April 29th, from 2:30 until 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. A. Monroe, corner Fourth and Jackson streets. Each guest is to represent the title of some book and the lady guessing the largest number of books will be amply rewarded. Refreshments will be served at the close of the afternoon. The usual collection plate will be found near the door. All are invited to come and enjoy the afternoon.

Call at Petersen & Co.'s store today (Saturday) and try Bishop's Cup Chocolate. It's worth while. Next door to city hall, Fourth street.

STORY OF THREE MEN

For ten years one spent an average of five dollars per month foolishly. Number two saved five dollars per month at home where it earned no interest. Number three deposited his five dollars regularly each month in the savings bank, receiving compound interest.

Here is the result: No. 1, nothing; No. 2, $600.00; No. 3, $699.00. The difference between two and three represents the interest those savings earned—$99.

At a meeting of the W. C. T. U. in Burbank, April, 1908, report was made from a committee that was to have presented a Francis E. Willard picture to the Burbank Grammar School. The report stated that the trustees refused to accept the picture, basing their action upon three or four statements which the ladies of the union declare to be absolutely untrue. The Union unanimously denounce the action of the trustees. We understand that one of the trustees was in favor of accepting the picture, but the majority ruled.

We noted in our issue before the last the fact that Joaquin Miller, the poet, had paid a brief visit to Glendale. The result was published in last Monday's Examiner. We have no doubt but that he was treated well while here, and possibly often, for he certainly praises Glendale and Tropic in no unstinted phrases. Here is the caption: "Famous Poet Praises Strawberry Land. Glendale at Eden's Edge, says Miller." It would be ungrateful to call attention to little inaccuracies in the article, such as a reference to "Ancient Tropic," (why we remember when Tropic was not) so we will just say for this time that even if we had a native poet, his innate modesty would prevent him from pouring out praise so lavishly as Joaquin has done and he sets in one or two really weighty facts, one of which is the statement which he reiterates that Glendale is only seven miles from Los Angeles. The stress of election times prevent us from giving the liberal quotations from the article which it merits.
